

"Pure of pipes, like an Irish
Kate Rusby" The Scotsman.

BERNADETTE MORRIS

BIOGRAPHY

Folk and traditional Irish singer-songwriter Bernadette Morris is an engaging performer who takes audiences on an emotional journey with a repertoire of songs that speak from and to the heart. With a captivating story to introduce every number, Bernadette draws in and charms her audience – a gift that is matched only by her wonderful voice once the song begins.

Bernadette is not only an extremely talented singer, performer, fiddle player and entertainer, she is also an exceptional songwriter. Ten years on from the release of her critically acclaimed debut album 'All the Ways you Wander' at the CQAF, Bernadette is preparing to launch her latest album "To the Well for Water" recorded with Ben McAuley. The recording has an array of talented musicians including Seán Óg Graham and Gerard Thompson on guitar. The album is a stunning mix of self-penned songs and co-writes with Johnny Brady, Declan Sinnott Cormac Neeson and Matt McGinn, amongst others.

This new album comes after 4 singles launched in 20/21, including co-writes with stellar members of the Irish music scene Eleanor McEvoy, Ríoghnach Connolly and Arborist's Mark McCambridge, which garnered radio play nationally and internationally including Playlisting on RTE Radio 1 and plays on the Mark Radcliffe Folk Show on Radio 2 and BBC & TG4 television appearances. Bernadette was named by Hotpress Magazine in 2020 as 'One to Watch', and rightly so.

DISCOGRAPHY

MAY 2023 - ALBUM

To The Well for Water.

COMING SOON!

2020/2021- SINGLES

Shores of my Home

The Legion of Marys

These Ruins

If they Build their Wall

2018 - EP

Where The Heart Is

2013 - ALBUM

All The Ways You Wander

Bernadette's sweet pure voice rings clear above the rich and diverse arrangements, on a well-chosen collection of songs, both traditional and contemporary."

- Paul Brady

WEBSITE www.bernadettemorris.com

 @BernadetteMorrisMusic

 @bморrismusic

 @bernadettemorrismusic

FOR BOOKING ENQUIRIES EMAIL :
bernadettemorrismusic@gmail.com

"Bernadette Morris is an amazing artist. She's a powerful voice and a powerful female voice in Irish music."

-Ralph McLean, BBC